SANTA FE, NM - The New Mexico Film Office announced today a short film, Sirocco, produced by Delphi Project Productions has completed production in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sirocco is an extended music video/music film produced in partnership with the City of Albuquerque Virtual Visionaries, Studio 519 and the Music Teachers National Association and the Professional Music Teachers Association of New Mexico. It is a film concerning our relationship to the COVID-19 pandemic, a tribute to those we have lost, and a reflection on the new world we have become part of as a result. Original compositions by Elizabeth Garland and Keely Mackey, performed by Delphi Project, are at the heart of this film, which features an interview with the founder of the Ezra Trager-Tarrant Foundation for Music and Education. Utilizing the talents of New Mexico artist/cinematographer, Nicole Kesel, New Mexico editor Helen Dundas, New Mexico recording studios, and UNM student filmmakers and crew spotlights the amazing talent in this state.

“New Mexico is not only a place for film and television production. Our state has the ecosystem to support projects in the multimedia space including the production of music videos” said Amber Dodson, director, New Mexico Film Office.

Sirocco is directed and produced by M. Elizabeth Garland, (Composer- Ink, A Tale of Captivity, Composer- Not Suitable, Composer- Curanderas, Composer- Shakespeare's Women, Composer- Get Your Hair Back, Composer- Mikhailwitl, Composer- PSA for Enlace Comunitario).

"We are grateful for the unique and excellent partnership with Studio 519 and the funding for Virtual Visionaries through the City of Albuquerque and the New Mexico Music Teachers Commissioning program to bring this film about music and healing to life," said Garland.

The production employed approximately 2 New Mexico crew members and 4 New Mexico principal actors. Principal cast includes New Mexico residents Keely Mackey, Robb Janov, Dan Manweller, and Elizabeth Garland.
